

MEDICINAL.

THE DREAM OF MOTHERHOOD COMES TRUE WHEN DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION IS USED.

Mrs. Axel Kjer, of Gordonville, Cape Girardeau Co., Mo., writes: "When I look at my little boy I feel it my duty to write you. Perhaps some one will see my testimony and be led to use your 'Favorite Prescription' and be blessed in the same way. I took nine bottles and to my surprise it carried me through and gave us as fine a little boy as ever was. He is now five months old, has never been sick a day, and is so strong that every body who sees him wonders at him. He is so playful and holds himself up so well."

NEW TRICK ON DIPLOMATE.

A story of the way an enterprising American tried to make $10,000 out of the recently-recalled minister from Argentina, Dr. Eduardo Wilde, is furnishing gossip for the diplomatic and social set in Washington.

Dr. Wilde and his wife came to Washington last spring and his wife had the reputation of being the loveliest woman in the Latin-American contingent, if not the entire diplomatic set.

A young man presented letters of introduction to the minister and stated that he had been commissioned to act as Mme. Wilde to pose as a model of South American beauty for designs to be used officially at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo.

North American beauty had been selected, and the exposition jury had unanimously declared that Mrs. Wilde was the exact model needed for the other half of the picture.

Senior Wilde saw no impropriety in granting the favor. Mrs. Wilde sat for several photographs and posed for a plaster cast of her head and shoulders. The work was well under way when the young man told Dr. Wilde that the privilege of being selected for this type was one of great value.

He said that several ambitious husbands had offered as much as $50,000 for their wives or daughters were thus honored, and suggested that, as long as senior and Mme. Wilde had been so gracious about it, the honor could be allowed them for $10,000.

Dr. Wilde was deeply incensed, and ended the sitting at once. He was mortified by the proceedings and so fearful that his and Mme. Wilde's position would be misunderstood that he asked to be transferred to another post. He asked two weeks ago for Europe.

HEROIC ACT OF A COLORED MAN.

William Phelps, of Richmond, Ky., and James Stansbury, of Indianapolis, both colored, were cleaning the inside of an 8-foot boiler at the Chesapeake Mills in the latter city on Saturday afternoon when an employee turned on the steam, and the steamboiler was tight. It leaked and the scalding steam poured in on the two men. The only exit was up a ladder to a manhole at the top. Both jumped for the ladder. Phelps reached it first, took one step and then stopped. He jumped aside and shouted: "You go first, Jim; you're married." Stansbury sprang up the ladder and escaped with slight burns about the face and legs. Though Phelps followed closely, his act of self-sacrifice cost him his life. By the time he had gotten up the ladder the flesh was dropping from his limbs. He was cooked alive, and with supreme effort dragged his scalded body from the manhole. Phelps lived for two hours in agony, but did not let a groan escape him. "It was Jim's right to go first," said he just before death. "He is married."

MYSTERY OF A STRONG BOX.—While workmen were removing the effects of the Shenandoah Valley National Bank at Winchester on Saturday, to their temporary quarters, while a new structure is being erected, a large iron chest was discovered in one of the vaults, securely locked, and no one knows what the contents are. The chest belongs to the bank only by virtue of possession, the real owner having died before the civil war, and none of the officials cares to assume the responsibility of opening it. For thirty-five years it has lain in the vault of the bank untouched, and for over a century it has been in either one or the other of the Winchester banks. The chest belonged originally to Thomas, Lord Fairfax, and the old baron kept all his valuable papers and deeds to his last domains locked therein. It then descended to a relative, Felix Roberts, owner of Hackwood, near Winchester, who, dying about forty years ago, appointed the late Henry M. Brent, cashier of the bank, as his executor. Mr. Brent never told any one what was in the strong box, so its contents are unknown.

NASAL CATARRH quickly yields to treatment by Ely's Cream Balm, which is agreeably aromatic. It is received through the nostrils, cleanses and heals the whole surface over which it diffuses itself. A remedy for Nasal Catarrh which is dry or exuding or diseased membrane should not be used. Cream Balm is recognized as a specific. Price 50 cents at druggists or by mail. A cold in the head immediately disappears when Cream Balm is used. Ely Brothers, 57 Warren Street, New York.

Skin affections will readily disappear by using DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Look out for counterfeits. If you get DeWitt's you will get good results. It is the quick and positive cure for piles.
